

challenges the legal sufficiency of the indictments. This Court ordered that these motions are to be filed on or before March 16, 2015. See Order Concerning Pretrial Motions to Dismiss, Page 1.

2) Given the unorthodox nature of this matter, as well as the multitude of analogues listed in the indictment, Defendants collectively request additional time to continue their inquiry as to the requested use of the requisite expert for purposes of analyzing the analogues in issue, and to further supplement any pretrial motions to dismiss and attendant evidentiary hearing(s) with expert testimony. Because the limited issue of the analogue analysis is universal to all Defendants, there is a general agreement that additional time to file what can be referred to as a supplemental motion for leave is necessary for the Defendants to present to this Court a detailed supplemental motion, replete with the necessary articulation the expert's qualifications, parameters of analysis and expected testimony, where applicable. Simply stated, the Defendants now agree that this request is necessary so that one, cogent supplemental motion outlining the proposed legal and factual bases for use of an expert in a pretrial context can be filed with this Court.

3) In addition to the aforementioned, there also exists the continued evolution of the discovery process in this matter as it remains ongoing. With respect to the analogues analysis, additional time will serve to ensure that all analogues the Government expects to present as violative of federal law are reviewed and analyzed for purposes of presenting to this Court a viable motion to dismiss. To that end, the Defendants also agree that the additional time to file the supplemental motion will allow for the necessary conference as to expert analysis.

4) Finally, at this juncture, the requested two-week extension does not in any manner affect this Court's pretrial motion deadline as to filing of all traditional pretrial motions.

WHEREFORE, for the foregoing reasons, Defendants request this Court grants their joint request for a two-week extension of time, or until March 30, 2015, to file the supplemental motion for leave ordered by this Court on January 30, 2015 (Doc. 232) and for any and further relief this Court finds just and prudent under the circumstances.
